Description

Made by one of the best shopfitters of the period, this is a fantastic early 20th-century shop display cabinet by F. Sage & Co. Ltd. The cabinet is made from solid mahogany and fitted with large glass panels to the front, sides and top, allowing items inside to be clearly viewed from multiple angles. The pair of glazed front doors open to reveal an adjustable interior with original metal shelf supports, while the base retains its velvet-lined display surface, ideal for presenting jewellery, small objects, or other retail items. The cabinet still carries the original F. Sage & Co. maker's plaque, a firm well known for producing high-quality fittings for department stores, jewellers and luxury retailers during the early 20th century. Today the cabinet works beautifully as a display piece for collectibles, jewellery or decorative objects, while also making a striking feature in a retail interior, boutique, or home setting. Comes with 2 glass shelves.
