Description

Constructed in solid oak throughout, the table features a generous rectangular top with a moulded edge and a beautifully worn surface. The top has developed a warm, rich tone with visible grain and natural patina. The table stands on a classic trestle base with shaped supports and a central stretcher, giving it both strength and a traditional, architectural feel. The base displays good craftsmanship, with simple yet elegant detailing typical of English country furniture of the period. The proportions make it highly practical, ideal as a large dining table, worktable, or retail display piece. Its understated design allows it to sit comfortably in both traditional and more contemporary interiors. H: 75 W: 183 D: 83 cm
