Description

Description A rare, well-balanced cut glass standing bowl, produced in Ireland around c1825-30. The bowl is decorated with a straw-berry-cut diamond band edged with prism cuts. It features a continuous overturned rim decorated with cross-cut diamonds, fan-cuts between, split-cuts along the borders, and prism cuts to the rim's edge. This rare domed foot and stem is blown in a singular piece of glass so that the knop formation has been created utilising a constriction, this has left the knop hollow, which leads into the hollow, prism cut foot. Date & Origin Ireland, c1825-30. Period of King George IV. Condition Excellent, age-related wear. No chips, cracks or restoration. Dimensions Height: 16cm Rim Diameter: 19cm Foot Diameter: 10.6cm

Internal Ref: 2026020141
