Description

Oil on canvas showing a horse and cart in a French village signed by the artist Constant Doré (1883-1963). The painting is mounted in a good quality wooden frame and is also inscribed on a label on the rear. Constant Doré was a French artist primarily known for his landscape and townscape paintings. His work is often associated with the Pont-Aven School, characterised by thick, block-like brushwork and a distinctive colour palette. He frequently painted atmospheric scenes of the River Seine in Paris, village street views, and rural autumn landscapes. He primarily worked with oil on canvas and occasionally watercolours. Doré was originally from the Sarthe region of France before moving to the Val d'Oise. Dimensions - 74 x 64 cm
