Description

A lovely large vintage (possibly antique) horseshoe pendant in nine-carat gold. The pendant is solid gold, hollow inside. Although in modern times many people think a horseshoe has to be a turned-up U shape to "keep the luck in", the traditional Victorian horseshoe points down and was considered a way to disperse any luck and protect a home rather than holding it in. SIZE: 2.2 x 2.5cm, not including the bail. WEIGHT: 2.0g. MATERIALS: Nine-carat (375) gold. HALLMARKS/STAMPS: None (tested). CONDITION: Excellent vintage/antique condition. ERA: Estimated early-mid 20th century, possibly earlier.
