Description

A good example of an 18th Century solid Sterling silver serving spoon. It is a simple design with a long elegant handle and a faintly engraved family crest on the tip of the handle. It is a good quality piece and weighs approximately 60g. It is clearly hallmarked for London, 1794 and the maker William Stroud. It is in very good condition for its age. There are no major damages and it displays beautifully. There are some faint surface scratches and a few light marks but nothing detrimental. It has been gently cleaned and polished and is ready for use. Approximate Measurements : Length : 8 3/4" / 22cm Bowl : 3 1/4" / 8cm x 1 3/4" / 4.5cm The best description comes from the photos so please look at them all carefully and if you have any questions just ask.
