Description

Here's a very attractive small antique pine wardrobe, full of lovely detail and character. It features two nicely panelled doors with beautiful vertical columns running down each side, giving it a strong decorative look. Below is a single drawer fitted with brass handles, which runs smoothly. The wardrobe stands on its original bun feet at the front with square block feet at the back — typical of the period — and has a flat top, ideal for additional storage. Inside, it is currently empty. At some point shelves were fitted, so these could easily be reinstated if required. Alternatively, a hanging rail can be installed at the top. With an internal depth of 19", it provides suitable hanging space for most clothing. The doors are mounted on external hinges, allowing them to open fully. Please note that when open, they extend slightly beyond the overall width, so if placing in an alcove or tight space, a little extra clearance will be needed. This wardrobe does not dismantle for delivery, so access should be checked carefully if it needs to go upstairs. Code: K0755D Price: £740 as it is, or £847 if you'd like it waxed (both prices include fitting of a new brass hanging rail...)
