Description

A fine Georgian mahogany chest of drawers dating to circa 1800, of classic proportions and understated elegance. Constructed in beautifully figured mahogany, the chest displays a rich, warm colour and an attractive, even patina developed over time. The piece is arranged with two short drawers over three long graduating drawers, all oak-lined and traditionally made with hand-cut dovetail joints, indicative of quality craftsmanship from the period. The drawers retain a set of oval brass plate handles, featuring decorative detailing, which complement the simplicity of the form while adding a subtle point of interest. Raised on shaped bracket feet, the chest has a clean, straight front typical of late Georgian design, making it highly versatile for both traditional and more contemporary interiors. The top is well-figured and of good colour, with minor age-related marks consistent with use.
