Description

Set of 6 Antique William IV Mahogany Dining Chairs. A rare set of William IV Mahogany chairs. We bring to you an exceptional set of six mahogany dining chairs dating to circa 1835, representing the refined transition from the late Regency period into the early William IV era. Each chair is constructed from high-quality solid mahogany, possessing a deep, honeyed warmth and retaining its original French polished finish. This finish has developed a magnificent depth of colour and a soft, authentic patina over nearly two centuries, which we have carefully preserved and enhanced with a fresh hand-waxing in our professional workshop. The broad, curved bar top rails are a particular highlight, showcasing the natural flame and character of the timber. The silhouette is defined by an elegant sabre profile, with the rear uprights sweeping in a continuous, graceful curve from the top rail down to the floor. In striking contrast, the front legs are expertly turned and tapered, featuring the crisp "tulip" and ring-turned detailing that became the hallmark of the 1830s. This combination of the sleek, curved back and the substantial, decorative front legs gives the set a balance...
