Description

Alfred Dehodencq 1822-1882, School of Delacroix Pen and Ink 19th century Preparatory Study. A fine pen and ink figural study on paper, attributed to Alfred Dehodencq 1822-1882, a preparatory study circa 1850s. Dehodencq was an influential French Romanticism and orientalist painter, often influenced by Delacroix, which is visible in this preparatory work, possibly in preparation for a painting such as Execution of Jewess in Morocco etc., often his works represented story telling of Morocco featuring assembled crowds, which this work implies. The picture is mounted behind a silk mounting board and framed, behind glass with an inscription to the reverse. The picture appears in good condition without much fading or distress to the paper, please note a small loss at the top right corner. Dimensions Width 46cm Inc frame Height 35.5cm Please request more photos and any questions invited. Free collection from Lewes, East Sussex. Dispatched U.K. and worldwide within 2-3 working days with tracking.
