Description

A stunning French Louis XV–style occasional table, beautifully crafted from mahogany and presented in excellent antique condition. The top features striking quadrant veneers that showcase the natural grain, all trimmed with a shaped brass edge. The frieze includes a neatly concealed drawer, seamlessly integrated into the design. The table stands on four graceful cabriole legs, each adorned with decorative brass mounts and finished with ornate sabots at the feet. A shaped lower tier mirrors the form of the top, providing both stability and an additional decorative element, also edged with brass. Elegant, well-proportioned, and full of classic French charm, this piece works beautifully as a lamp table, bedside, or accent table in both traditional and eclectic interiors.
