Description

French Second Empire Antique Fireplace Fender with Greyhounds in Bronze – 19th Century A striking and sculptural French Empire period fireplace fender, featuring finely cast elegant bronze greyhounds. Dating from the 19th century, the design reflects the classical influences of the Empire style with strong lines and ornate decoration. The fender is constructed with a front rail and decorative end supports with greyhound dogs sitting on top of each plinth end. The plinths of the fender are decorated with bronze floral motifs and the central bronze bar is decorated with acanthus leaves. The warm tones of the bronze contrast subtly with the darker structure, creating visual depth in front of a fireplace. Originally intended to frame and protect the hearth, the plinths at each end can be opened to accommodate different sized fire places. This piece today serves equally well as a decorative focal point. The fender has been checked over and lightly cleaned in our workshop. It remains in very good antique condition. Height: 19.5 cm Width: 96 cm Width (fully open): 112 cm Depth: 9 cm
