Description

Huge English 19th Century Antique Cast Iron Planter A wonderful large scale English antique cast iron round vessel which would make a fabulous huge planter or for just a specimen tree or shrub. This is a largest I have ever seen, would also make a lovely water feature if sunken into the ground. Very well cast in iron with a lip around the top, in superb condition with no holes or areas of damage. Has 150 L stamped on the lip. Probably originally it would have been used to boil water. A wonderful antique garden feature. Dimensions Height: 79cm (31.35") Width: 115cm (45.63") Depth: 115cm (45.63")
