Description

A Very Good Quality 18th Century, Chippendale Period, Georgian Mahogany Wine Table, Having Well Figured Octagonal Tilting Top, Retaining Exceptional Warm Colour And Patina, Raised On Elegant Turned Central Column With Tripod Legs. Unusual in terms of its octagonal form, this charming 18th century chippendale period occasional table retains a quite exceptional untouched colour and patina which really adds to the overall feel of the piece. The column is extremely elegant, as are the tripod legs and it stands with lovely elegance. The perfect size for an absolute host of spaces around the home, it is both beautiful and practical. It would work just as well alongside a sofa or library chair in the living room to place a drinks glass on top of, as it would in the drawing room with a lamp perched atop, or even in the bedroom as a bedside table. As with all our items this table has been attended to in our workshops by our highly trained, skilled, traditional antique furniture restorers, before being offered for sale, meaning it has received any work required to ensure it is ready to place straight into the home, including a natural wax polish. Circa 1760. Height 28.25in. Wi...
