Description

DESCRIPTION A stunning pair of diamond drop earrings set in 18ct yellow gold with the diamond being set in likely silver. Just sublime. These are beautiful original old cut diamonds Edwardian earrings, now very hard to find. HALLMARKS Not Hallmarked but tested as high carat yellow gold back and post. Diamonds set in most likely silver or platinum. MEASUREMENTS Each diamond measures approx 2.5-3.5mm. The diamond measure between 0.06-0.15ct each. Diamond clarity and colour is very good; estimated on average; Si2 and I-J in colour. Each diamond in the drop is articulated down to a bottom cluster of diamonds. The diamonds are particularly sparkly/firey due to the huge number of facets to the table top. Total carat weight estimated in situ is 1.80ct. For pierced ears only with long shepherds hooks. Total drop length is 30mm from the top of the shepherds hook. The shepherds hook has an additional safety clip - a marker of quality. The cluster diameter is 10mm. CONDITION Good condition. Minimal signs of wear commensurate of age, some tarnishing to the silver which can be polished up if preferred, however this is a lovely antique patina.
