

SA1206201

Finely Carved Georgian Mahogany Wing Arm Chair in the Irish Manner c. 1765

Price

GBP 4,500

| USD $6,089 | EUR 5,265

Item Reference: SA1206201

Date of manufacture: Georgian

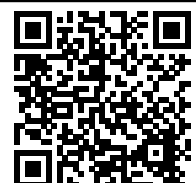

Description

A very fine and extremely rare and large Georgian mahogany wing armchair with blind fretwork carving to both arms and extensive foliate pierced fretwork carving the seat rails with curved carved aprons. The front legs beautifully carved at knees with acanthus and drop bell husks and set on layered naturalistic lion paw and claw feet. Both rear raked legs with carved borders and scrolls at the foot. Newly upholstered in a top quality heavyweight silk weave fabric, a c.1900 fabric bought unused on a roll and the pattern of which works fabulously with the carved detailing on the chair. This is a very large and capaciously comfortable chair of exceptional quality. Extremely heavy and solid with no weakness or movement in the joints and no breaks, repairs or replacements to the show frame other than some very tiny professional repairs to small losses on the carved apron on one side. Dimensions are: 34 inches wide, 26 inches deep and 46.5 inches high (all max) Floor to seat is 17 inches. For metric please multiply by 2.5 Of superb quality and in excellent original condition and by repute, for generations until recently, in a castle in Belgium

Seller Details

Webberley Antiques

East Sussex United Kingdom By appointment only.

Tel: 07765 233266

International Tel: +44 7765 233266