Description

A Charles II Oak Chest Of Drawers, late 17th Century, the rectangular planked top with moulded edge over four graduated drawers with geometric mouldings applied to fronts and flanked by raised mouldings, the top of the bottom half with a dentil moulding where the chest splits in two, with panelled sides and original planted back and raised on stile feet. The brass excutcheons appear to be original but the pear shaped drop handles are replacements. A good, honest, chest recently acquired from a 17th Century Wiltshire farmhouse,
