Description

Here's a very attractive 1930s pine dresser, likely originating from the Czech Republic. It's a well-proportioned and practical piece, offering both display and storage space, and is in lovely condition for its age — solid, sturdy, and clean throughout. The top section features three glazed doors with six small drawers beneath (three on each side). The glazed doors are fitted with simple ball catches and open easily, revealing two adjustable shelves inside, allowing you to tailor the layout to your needs. The base has two drawers over two cupboard doors. All drawers run smoothly, and inside the base is a full-width shelf. The doors are fitted with a sliding catch mechanism, which may just benefit from a light oiling. The top section separates from the base for delivery, making it much easier to transport and position. Code: K4605D Price: £700 as it is, or £827 if you'd like it waxed (waxing typically includes the interior of the top section). Dimensions: Height 75", base height 35.5", width 50" (widest point), depth 21.5" (base) / 14.5" (top). Height 191 cm, base height 90 cm, width 127 cm, depth 55 cm (base) / 37 cm (top).
