Description

Antique Staffordshire Tithe Pig Figure Group c.1830 – Early 19th Century Pottery Figure A charming and highly collectible Staffordshire pottery tithe pig figure group, dating to circa 1830, beautifully modelled in the traditional style. The group depicts three figures standing before a blossoming tree, set on a naturalistic oval base — a classic and sought-after Staffordshire subject. Description. This early 19th century piece displays excellent character, with strong original colours and decorative appeal. The composition is well-balanced and typical of Staffordshire figure groups of the period. Key Details: Origin: Staffordshire, England Date: c.1830 Subject: Tithe pig figure group Material: Pottery Form: Figure group on oval base Measurements: Height: approx. 14.5 cm Condition: Very good condition for its age, with light wear consistent with an early 19th century piece. Colours remain bright and attractive. Notes: A highly decorative and increasingly desirable example of early Staffordshire pottery, ideal for collectors of antique figures or traditional English ceramics.
