Description

This superb sturdy, solid mahogany 19th century English table has been professionally restored and hand decorated with great attention to details by a talented artisan, using an original floral design in shades of faded white, charcoal, grey and yellow with touches of ole gold, blue and green on the carved pedestal and legs. The table top has a chamfered edge and is supported by a sturdy rounded pedestal decorated with a striking design. The three scrolling feet are on original castors. The top tilts smoothly using the original brass mechanism on the underside of the top, which can be detached if required. This feature makes it a versatile piece, allowing space to be saved if not in use. Seats six people
