Description

A striking taxidermy whitetail deer shoulder mount, beautifully presented on a shield shaped wooden backboard. The mount displays a fine mature buck with well-formed antlers, natural colouring, and lifelike detailing to the face, ears, and coat. The craftsmanship is confident and sympathetic, giving the piece strong presence without feeling overly dramatic. The wooden shield-shaped plaque complements the warm tones of the fur and makes the mount easy to hang and display. The reverse retains its original fixing plate and label. A classic decorative piece for a lodge-style interior, country house, bar, study, or eclectic wall display – full of character and traditional charm.
