Description

An utterly delightful small sized pair of mirrored brass sconces (1820 -1840, Charles X - Louis Philippe) originating from the ancestral home of the Marquis de Préaulx, Château de Tressé in Pouancé, Maine-et-Loire. The beautiful bevelled mirror plates perfectly reflect the candlelight and the sconces are an ideal size for smaller candles. Use with candles or can be adapted for modern wiring. The condition: in full sturdy working order, with one of the sconces at a slight angle, commensurate with age. Additional dimension information in cm: height 41.5, full width 19, width of mirror plate 8, depth 13.
