

SA1207426

29 x 70cm 18th Century Salor Turkoman Chuval Fragment

Price

GBP 5,950

| USD $8,052 | EUR 6,962

Item Reference: SA1207426

Date of manufacture: 1750

Dimensions

Height = 70 cm (27.6")

Width = 29 cm (11.4")

Description

The best of the best! Just a small morsel survives of this wonderful 18th century chuval (large transport sack) but what great power it has. The Salor are well known as the Turkoman tribe that produced the most magical trappings and are cherished by collectors and dealers alike. Very few complete examples exist so even little pieces are appreciated, as even though this is perhaps 20% of the original it carries 100% of the star power. Finely woven with excellent pile height, typical magenta silk details in the guls and heavily depressed warp. 11.5" x 2'4"

Seller Details

James Cohen Antique Carpets

London United Kingdom

Tel: 07747 610 248

International Tel: +44 7747 610 248

