Description

This fine quality compendium of six beautiful square shape bottles with round polished chrome screw tops fits neatly into the original tan leather hinged case, which is fastened with a leather strap with a chrome press stud. This delightful set was originally a wealthy gentleman's piece, most likely for use on a shooting or hunting trip. It was made and retailed by Davis, 200, Piccadilly, London and is stamped in gold script on the inside of the lid. The six bottles and chrome tops are in very good condition with no damage. The fitted tan leather case shows signs of age related wear and use, but has developed a very pleasing colour and patina.
