Description

I love this form of early candlestick , it is in good working order and is known as a spiral or coil candlestick.....it still retains the original "traveller" to raise the candle as it burns down....the base is turned from fruitwood and the whole candlestick is in very good condition with an excellent natural colour....these would have been typically used in barns, stables and cellars....the spiral coil can stop the candle setting fire to straw or hay if it is knocked over. French C1770-90.
