Description

A fine quality Regency figured mahogany secretaire bookcase of elegant proportions. The upper section with glazed doors featuring distinctive shaped astral mouldings, enclosing adjustable shelves and retaining a pleasing traditional interior. The fall front secretaire opens to reveal a beautifully fitted interior with a tooled leather writing surface, pigeon holes and small drawers, including original inkwell compartment. This form was designed as a compact writing cabinet, allowing letters, documents and writing tools to be neatly organised while the fall front provides a practical writing surface. The lower section fitted with four graduated drawers retaining original style handles and raised on unusual Regency scroll feet. The figured mahogany throughout displays a rich warm colour and attractive grain, enhancing the overall quality. A handsome and practical Regency piece combining display, storage and writing functionality, ideal for both traditional and contemporary interiors. Condition Report: Good antique condition with age related wear. Minor marks to writing surface and interior consistent with use. Overall very well presented with a rich colour and solid construction.
