Description

An Edwardian mahogany music cabinet with the finely inlaid top above a bank of four shallow drawers and a single cupboard door. The drawers retain their original brass drop handles with fall-fronts supported on Stones Patent stays, all raised on slender square legs united by an open undertier. A practical and unusually versatile cabinet, designed for sheet music storage but equally useful today for papers, correspondence or general sitting room storage. Its modest and particularly narrow footprint makes it a sensible choice for a drawing room, study or hallway. Very good antique condition with minor surface wear and light marks consistent with age and use. Structurally sound, clean and ready to place in the home. English, circa 1910.
