Description

A lovely size to make a decent coffee table with a massive amount of storage, this piece was originally painted wood effect which has beautifully worn off in places to reveal a lovely patina commensurate with plenty of use. Going by the well-preserved labels it's certainly done its fair share of travel – Melbourne for starters! We have cleaned it both inside and out, preserving its story, leaving a lovely warm colour that's been waxed to enhance its age. Unusually for this type of trunk it has big chunky brass corners – which are quite sharp and therefore probably not small child friendly! Its original lock works well, covered by a neat small brass escutcheon and the key, as you can see, is there too. It's an old piece which has seen some life so it does have marks, dents and scrapes, which you'd expect from something that's been around a bit but it's lovely, a useful-size and in superb condition, ready for use.
