Description

Lovely example of this classic chair with some rarely seen details, especially in the Elm scroll-shape arms which nicely fit the hand and are very tactile. The seat too, is typically Elm, with plenty of width, so it doesn't pinch like some later chairs do – ensuring it's very comfortable. The legs, curvy, shaped uprights to the back and top rail are all in Beech with lovely patination. We have carefully cleaned and revived the polished surfaces, preserving it's original finish and re-waxing the piece to a lovely warm glow. It's a very old chair, so you'd expect to see the odd repair, with marks of use here and there but it is a lovely comfortable homely piece, you can see yourself sitting in by a roaring fire with a nice glass of ale and a book! Dimensions: Height is 105cm (41.3inches) Width is 61cm (24.0inches) Depth is 50cm (19.7inches) Please contact us to discuss this beautiful piece, a delivery quote, or to visit and collect
