Description

This is a lovely dainty solid sterling silver caddy spoon, It dates from the short reign of George IV and was assayed in the long-closed Glasgow Assay Office in 1827. The maker's mark is possibly that of Robert Turnbull. There are initials on the finial. The elongated bowl has an elegant cut out design around the edge. There is a small ding in the bowl and surface abrasions, but nothing more than would be expected of an item of this age. Dimensions: Length: 9.5cm Width: 3cm Weight: 10g. Complimentary gift wrapping is available on request. Post and packaging are free within the UK. Overseas buyers please e-mail for postage costs and please note: Import duties, taxes, and charges are not included in the item price or shipping cost. These charges are the buyer's responsibility. Please check with your country's customs office to determine what these additional costs will be prior to buying.
