Description

Exceptional Antique Chinese Dragon Oriental Hall Bench or Settle, Rosewood c1900 What can I say I was lucky to have found this a really nice piece, probably my favourite in this year, a magnificent profusely carved antique chinese dragon carved bench dating from the late 19th / early 20th century period and in really good condition for the year, please study the pictures. Some minor points to note, our restoration team replaced a few missing dragons 'eyes' on this piece as closely as we could do, if any more ever fall out please get in touch and we can post you some replacements. The settle spent much of its life on an uneven floor and as such has a slight warp which has been counteracted with a small rubber gromit under one of the settles feet (see last picture), theres a few minor losses and historic repairs but very few actually given its age its really survived very well indeed, you will not be dissappointed, any questions please do not hesitate to reach out, I have uploaded a large number of high resolution images for your perusal. Depth: 630mm Height: 1300mm Width: 1550mm Seat Height: 460mm
