Description

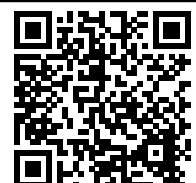

An outstanding quality George III period mahogany secretaire chest on chest in the manner of Gillow, with original brassware and superb original colour and patina c.1760. The upper section with moulded cornice to the top and dental moulding below. Two over three drawer formation; each drawer with figured timbers and cockbead edges. The top chest with quarter reeded canted corners. The base section with moulded edge to the top and three graduated drawers below to match the top chest; the top secretaire drawer pulling out and the front falling with release catches to form a writing surface. The back of the secretaire fitted with a selection of drawers and pigeon holes. Moulded base rail with original ogee bracket feet below and solid mahogany sides. Superbly made with oak drawer linings and choice solid timbers throughout. Presented in excellent original unrestored condition with original brass fittings and locks, superb colour and lovely original patina. Separates in to two sections for moving.
