Description

Superb Early Heals Teak Edwardian Antique Garden Dining Table & Chairs This solid teak Heals antique garden dining set is in very good solid and original condition. Made in the early twenties by Hughes Bolckow the ship breakers in Blyth, Northumberland from teak timbers from the decommissioned battleships. Labelled by the maker for Heals of London's Tottenham Court Road showroom who retailed them. A great design, perfect for a smaller garden, terrace or balcony. The slatted square dining table has four silhouette shaped legs with a under shelf, the four dining chairs fit neatly under the table when not in use, forming a neat cube. The original metal makers label is on the table. An earlier model than most. Dimensions Height: 73cm (28.97") Width: 95cm (37.70") Depth: 95cm (37.70")
