Description

A good-sized early 20th century Venetian style mirror of octagonal form, with beautifully etched floral and foliate decoration to the surrounding plates. The central mirror is beveled, and the frame retains its original decorative cresting and shaped glass panels, all displaying the soft patina and gentle age one expects from a piece of this period. At over a metre tall, it is an impressive and versatile size, suitable for hallways, bedrooms, or as a statement piece in a sitting room. Very good antique condition in keeping with age.
