Description

A mid 19th century exhibition quality finely carved Continental fruitwood trophy carving presented in a frame. This superbly carved panel consists of various 'trophy' and hunting related articles such as a carved fish, birds, finely carved basket of fruit, tassels, ribbon and bells, fish basket, various hunting implements, oak leaves and acorns, a bag with superbly carved fringing and tassels, fishing net containing fish, fruit, grapes and vines and horn musical instruments. These types of carving were particularly fashionable in the mid-late 19th century, this panel being an excellent way of the exhibiting the quality of the wood carvers' work. This panel is in very good, original condition with some natural splitting (which can be seen on the images) but the panel remains stable, can go straight into a home or collection and would make a wonderful statement wall piece. Size: Height: 26.5" / 67cm Width: 16.25" / 41cm Depth: 1.5" / 4cm
