Description

An attractive oak side table, the long narrow rectangular top finely carved with bold geometric chip-carved ornament, raised on slender cabriole legs united by a lower tier. Dating to around the turn of the century and with something of an Arts and Crafts influence, the narrow footprint makes it particularly useful placed against a wall in a hall or sitting room where space is at a premium. Very good antique condition with light surface wear and minor losses to the edges consistent with age and use. Structurally sound, clean and ready to place in the home. English, circa 1900.
