Description

A small perpetual desk calendar dating from the early 20th Century. It has a brass frame with a beaded border and it stands on an oak base. It comes with a full set of date and week cards. It's in good condition for its age. The frame has some small dinks and marks here and there but nothing detrimental and the wooden base is in good order. The cards have discoloured slightly and there are some small losses around the edges and borders but they display well and the calendar is certainly very usable. The best description comes from the photos so please look at them all carefully and if you have any questions just ask. Tracked UK Delivery £7
