Description

A high quality set of gilt carved French armchairs with original Aubusson tapestry. The arcaded backs with small cartouche type details central to the top rail and flanked by delicate carved finials. The padded swept arms with acanthus and scroll designs. beneath is a small row of nulling above a egg and dart type detail on the turned conical type front legs. The rear legs being slightly out swept almost of sabre form. The Aubusson tapestry depicts cartouches with garlands of flowers surrounded by floral decoration. The upholstery does have various rips in places, but is in good condition for its age. One of the seats has collapsed and requires restoration. There are a few minor losses to the carving commensurate with age, and the frames of the chairs are strong. They are a fantastic set of country house chairs with very generous seats, and in original untouched condition.
