Description

An antique brass width-adjustable (135cm-167cm) club fender with upholstered seating, formed in a generous U-shaped configuration designed to sit neatly around a fireplace. The frame is constructed from polished brass with a continuous base, uprights, and curved supports, joined with visible fixings and a central tightening mechanism to adjust the span. The seats are upholstered in deep buttoned leather in a rich oxblood tone, finished with close-set brass studwork along the edges.
