Description

Circa 1770. Figured walnut North European armoire/hall cupboard with a beautiful colour and patina. Surmounted by an angled cornice above a segmented burl walnut frieze, the two doors with shaped panels surrounded by highly figured walnut are separated and flanked by crossbanded and segmented walnut doorframes. The two doors open to a shelved interior (can be made fully or partially hanging) all on a crossbanded base over shaped feet. Lovely colour and patina. Like many North European armoires, it fully dismantles for transport.
