

SA1212140

19th Century Mahogany Bracket Clock Fusee Movement. Spurge Dunmow

Price

GBP 685

| USD $927 | EUR 802

Item Reference: SA1212140Date of manufacture: 1850

Description

This is a good 19th century bracket clock with a quality fusee movement and anchor escapement in full working order dating from around 1840. The clock is signed Spurge Dunmow to the convex dial that is painted with Roman numerals. The case has carved mahogany detailing and is raised on attractive gadrooned ball feet. This has brass side decoration in the form of lions masks with ringed carrying handles. The clock runs for eight days keeping good time and has the original winging key. The clock measures 33 cms high by 17 deep by 23 wide. UK insured packing and delivery is £20.

Seller Details

Rams Head Antiques

Wolsingham Weardale Durham United Kingdom

Tel: 07769 255 544

International Tel: +44 7769 255 544

