Description

A finely made Georgian style mahogany console table of elegant proportions, raised on slender reeded tapering legs with turned collars and feet. The shaped serpentine front is fitted with a single long central drawer retaining its original brass ring handles, while the flanking sections are beautifully fashioned as faux drawers, creating a wonderfully balanced and symmetrical appearance. The top is richly figured with beautifully chosen mahogany veneers and finished with delicate satinwood line inlay, following the elegant outline of the serpentine front. The warm colour and polished finish enhance the striking natural grain and refined appearance of the timber.
