SoldItem Reference: SA1212758*Date of manufacture: 18th Century

Description

A primitive oak slab top cricket table of truly exceptional colour. The top has an exceptionally good silky smooth patina. The shaped octagonal top stands over three legs, one plain and two turned. There are signs of thin early stretcher, removed probably when the leg was replaced which appears to appear to an historic repair. The wear to the replaced leg suggests this was probably carried out in the earlier part of the 19th century. Under the shaped slab top there are signs of old nails and material where the top appears to have been covered at some point, although why the truly exceptional colour would be covered is unclear. This appears also to be historic. This is much rarer example in an octagonal form than is normally seen. Measuring: 69.5 cm tall, 49 cm x 44 cm English or Welsh, c. 1790 Please ask for a quote for delivery as this is not included ***
