Description

Edwardian Mahogany Kidney Shaped Desk Item Code: S27-875A A fine Edwardian mahogany kidney shaped pedestal desk, offering elegant proportions, attractive period styling and a practical writing surface. The desk features a shaped green leather inset top above a curved frieze drawer, flanked by twin pedestals fitted with graduated drawers. The drawer fronts display well-figured mahogany veneers, decorative crossbanding and fine chequered stringing, complemented by brass swan neck handles and keyhole escutcheons. The kidney shaped form gives the desk a refined and distinctive appearance, making it well suited to a study, library, office or period-inspired interior. The rear is also neatly finished with decorative panelled detail, allowing the piece to stand freestanding within a room rather than being placed only against a wall. Raised on square tapering legs with castors, this is a smart and usable antique desk with strong decorative appeal. There are age-related marks, surface wear and signs of use consistent with an antique item, including some wear to the polish and leather writing surface, adding to its character and authenticity. Key Features: Edwardian mahogany kidney...
