Description

An 18th century Venetian mirror with its original foxed plate. The frame is finely detailed with delicate floral carving and a pierced crest to the top, centred by a small etched mirror plate. There are layers upon layers to this mirror. Hobo loves because: I always love a juxtaposition - this feels simple but detailed at the same time. The simplicity of the frame paired with the sunflower details to each corner. Not forgetting the etched glass to the top centre plate, subtle but still there.
