Item Reference: SA1213492Date of manufacture: 18th Century

Description

A handsome Welsh Side Table, made from dense, native oak. The twin plank top has a moulded edge, above a single drawer and shaped, undulating frieze, with ring and baluster-turned legs joined by stretchers. The brassware, whilst not original, is old. Probably Neath or Swansea valley, circa 1760-1800. The profile of the leg turning is almost identical to that on a potboard dresser base we sold over a decade ago, which came from this area. Dimensions: 84 cms wide, 51 cms deep, 68 cms high.
