Description

A 1920s Queen Anne style walnut demi-lune card table of elegant proportions and excellent decorative appeal. The table is beautifully veneered in richly figured walnut, with striking burr walnut to the top, crossbanded border, and an attractively carved moulded edge. The shaped demi-lune form opens to reveal a full circular playing surface lined in green baize, making it both decorative and highly practical. Raised on graceful cabriole legs terminating in pad feet, the table features finely carved shell decoration to the knees, a hallmark of the Queen Anne revival style. Compact in its closed form as a console or occasional table, it transforms into a generous games table when opened, making it an ideal piece for both traditional and contemporary interiors.
