Description

A fine Victorian silver strawberry set, comprising of a sugar bowl, sugar tongs, and matching cream jug, dated to Sheffield 1888, weighing in at approx. 150g (5.3 oz.) The bowl and jug measures 5cm in height each. The assay mark is for Sheffield and the makes mark JD /wd are for James Deakin & Sons. This item is in its original case ,an ideal gift or something for yourself this summer /Wimbledon season! All in very good condition with obviously some signs minor usual of age/use as to be expected. The "JD/WD" mark on silver stands for James Deakin & Sons (or John & William Deakin), a prominent British silversmithing manufacturer based in Sheffield. The mark represents James Deakin and his son William Pitchford Deakin. The Company: Founded in Sheffield in 1866 as James Deakin & Co., they entered their first "JD over WD" maker's mark at the Sheffield Assay Office in 1878. After other sons joined, it became James & William Deakin. Apologies for reflections in photos
