Description

A large pine farmhouse table dating from the early 20th century. It has a lovely planked top and stands on square tapering legs with a small drawer on one side. It is a good size, comfortably seating 8-10 people, with good leg clearance of 23 3/4" (60cm). The table is in good condition with a lovely colour. There are various signs of age and use and some old marks and knocks and even some old chew marks on one leg but this has all helped to develop a wonderful patina. The drawer base has been replaced at some point and it opens smoothly. The table is strong and sturdy, it has been gently cleaned and polished and is ready for use. The best description comes from the photos so please look at them all carefully and if you have any questions just ask. Nationwide delivery available through our network of reliable couriers.
