Description

Rare WW1 Military Issued Black Dial Trench Watch Circa 1916 – Original Military Markings /I\ 25105R An original WW1 military issued trench watch dating from circa 1916, featuring a rare black dial and authentic military issue markings. Issue ref no /I\ 25105R. The watch has a 34mm screw-front and screw-back case designed for added protection during active service. Powered by a recently serviced 15 jewel mechanical movement, the watch is in excellent full working order. The original unrestored black dial is exceptionally well preserved, retaining almost all original luminous paint to the numerals. The watch also appears to retain its original glass crystal. Complete with full military markings to the case back and fitted on a period-style WW1 leather strap, this is an outstanding collector's example of an early First World War trench watch. Perfect for collectors of antique military watches, WW1 trench watches, and early military timepieces. Price: £895 including UK delivery.
